STARTING THE MILLS

Work Resumed at the Homestead Works.

NON-UNION WORKMEN WITHIN.

Probably Two Hundred Men at Work, but the Exact Number is Not Known. Nothing of a Sensational Nature Occurs Around the Fortified Works.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 20.—For the first time since the present lockout began the Carnegie company yesterday made a pretense of starting its mills here. It was something of a surprise to Homestead people to see smoke issuing from the armor plate mill yesterday morning and they were still more surprised at noon when the big whistle was blown for the dinner hour. The full power of the whistle was not put in operation, but the people recognized the old time sound and many of them looked down toward the entrance to the works to see if gangs of workmen were not pouring out on their several ways to dinner. But none came.

There were workmen inside the works, however, and they were pursuing their duties in a business-like manner, seemingly without thought that an armed guard was necessary to protect them. These men were brought into the works secretly by the company within the past week. They came a few at a time, until Monday the company succeeded in getting in a number of workers sufficient to guarantee the starting up of the armor plate mill yesterday. Some of these men were probably landed at the mill between sunset Monday evening and daybreak yesterday morning by the Little Bill, under protection of the military.

Later in the day the Tide, a small sternwheel tug, brought a number of men up the Monongahela from the direction of Pittsburgh and landed them at the works. There were about thirty in the party and all went into the armor plate mill. The company is believed to have about 175 men at work in the armor plate mills. Included among these are five steel workers, believed to have been brought from the works of the company at Braddock.

All the men in the mill are, of course, non-union. They are engaged in making repairs preliminary to the commencement of work on the contracts with the federal government delayed by the lockout, and it is probable that the company is making every effort to secure the service of men for the steel working department so that work on the contracts may be begun without delay when the repairs are completed. In the afternoon some of the new workmen made a protective shield for heavy marine guns in the presence of a number of the militia officers.

The starting of the mills yesterday, following the issuance of warrants for leaders of the strike, has shown the members of the advisory committee the determination of the Carnegie company officials, but they do not appear to be downcast at the presence of non-union men in the places of Homestead workmen. Members of the committee insist that non-union men can never run the Homestead mills, because of their ignorance in the technical branches of iron and steel making required to make successful the manufacture of the improved product of the plant.

The committee also bases hope of defeating the company in the long run on the declaration of a general boycott by freight handlers, railway men, carpenters, masons, builders and others engaged in construction work against the Carnegie company's product if non-union men are allowed to run the mills. Meanwhile the non-union men in the mills are provided with sleeping accommodations in the armor plate mill, and have every comfort that the company can provide. Their meals are cooked inside the works, and every preparation for a long siege has been made. It is expected that more non-union men will be brought to the mills within the next few days.

Considerable sickness has developed among the soldiers during the last two days, and several have been sent to their homes. The trouble is attributed to the bad condition of Heiser street, along which the pickets guarding the mill property are stationed. The cabins and tenements of the Hungarians are on this street, and the open sewer in front of these houses was a mass of filth. General Snowden took the matter in hand yesterday and requested the town authorities to aid him in cleaning the sewer. A gang of men attached hoses to hydrants and flushed the sewer and washed the fronts of the Hungarian quarters. Colonel Heidekoper, of the state troops, was assigned by General Snowden to disinfect the camp and the town, and he sent out details of men to sprinkle chloride of lime about the filthy gutters. These precautions were taken to prevent any likelihood of an epidemic of typhoid fever.

The members of the Amalgamated association have practically decided to apply for warrants for Mr. Frick, Andrew Carnegie and others, but are still in consultation with counsel as to whether the warrants, if sworn out for murder and treason, will hold. They are determined to offset the action of the company's officials by obtaining these warrants if possible, and the men are confident that they will succeed. They claim that their case against the officials of the company is much stronger than that of the latter against any of the individuals who are now wanted by the constables. They claim that Andrew Carnegie and Mr. Frick are responsible for sending an armed body of men into the state without legal authority, and can be held for treason on this charge, and that they are also responsible as accessories before the fact for the manslaughter which followed. They hope to secure the extradition of Andrew Carnegie and bring him to Pittsburgh for trial.

The delay in making informations against Mr. Carnegie and his superintendents is said to be due to the hesitancy of W. J. Brennan, counsel of the association, in advising such a course until permanent counsel has been secured for the coming battle in the courts. It was rumored that General Butler and ex-Governor Hoadley had been retained by the men to manage their case, but this was denied by the men themselves. The program of the men now is to engage the best legal obtainable and to prosecute the Carnegie people criminally, and as one of them remarked, put them to the expenses of a heavy legal fight.

No attempt was made yesterday to serve warrants on the five men in Homestead who, with John McLuckie and Hugh O'Donnell are charged with murder committed on the day the Pinkertons were repulsed. Constable Webber, one of the trio sent out by Alderman McMasters, of Pittsburgh, to arrest the five men wanted, came to Homestead early in the afternoon with subpoenas for people whose evidence is wanted at the hearing Burgess McLuckie will receive at Pittsburgh. This duty was accomplished without trouble. The constable went about his work quietly and without calling on the military for protection as he and his two colleagues did the previous day when they attempted to serve the warrants.

When the subpoenas had been served Constable Webber went back to Pittsburgh without having attempted to arrest Ross, Critchlow, Flannagan, Burkett or Flaherty. These five men were to be seen about the streets of Homestead all day apparently indifferent to the serious charge made against them. There was no attempt made at concealment of their presence in town. The accused men have decided to evade arrest until after the McLuckie hearing. If the burgess is admitted to bail by the court he will immediately surrender and ask release under bond on the same ground as those asked by McLuckie. They have not made any decision as to what they will do if bail is refused the burgess, but it is probable that they will ultimately place themselves in custody.

Hugh O'Donnell's friends say they expect him back in Homestead tomorrow. The fact that a warrant for his arrest has been issued must be known to him by this time, and his many admirers here contend that he is not the kind of man who would run away at this critical time.

Governor Pattison inspected all of the Second brigade that is stationed on this side of the river yesterday. He expressed himself as very much pleased with the appearance of the troops.

Major General Snowden, commanding the state troops here, has decided not to withdraw his division until some definite settlement that will preclude further trouble of a serious character has been reached between the Carnegie Steel company and the Amalgamated association. He declared last night that his whole command would remain until peace was entirely established. General Snowden has carefully considered the situation and he evidently does not place reliance in the statements made that matters will remain as peaceful as they apparently are at present if the troops are withdrawn.

Many of the officers of the national guard pooh-pooh the idea that there will be any outbreak while the militia is in possession of the town, but they are not so sanguine in their predictions of peace when asked what phase the situation will assume when the troops go home. General Snowden has heard details of every incident that has transpired since the battle of the barges. He was particularly indignant at the treatment accorded strangers by some of the strikers previous to and for a few days after the troops took possession. It is believed that he does not take the radiantly peaceful view of the situation that some of his officers do and the quickness of decision which he has shown on several occasions shows his determination not to take any chances concerning the possibility of trouble.

The Tenth regiment, under Colonel Hawkins, and a battalion of the Ninth regiment, guarded the town and the Carnegie works yesterday. The militiamen on guard along the big fence surrounding the Carnegie property, had a hard time of it with the chilling rain and the nauseating stench of the surface drains to contend with. So successful has been the efforts of the company to place non-union men in the works that the military believe the remainder of the number required will be allowed to go in without opposition from the union men if they are discovered in the act of entering the works.

Last night the Sheridan troop of cavalry from Tyrone paraded the streets of the town ostensibly for the purpose of exercising the horses, but really for the moral effect a body of cavalry would inspire.

DESTRUCTIVE FLAMES.

Forest Fires Doing Great Damage in Newfoundland.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., July 20.—Forest fires are again raging in and around the country. At Bay Bulls a large fire is in progress and another between here and Topsail is assuming serious proportions. Beyond that the whole country side along the railway lines is in flames. Manuels, Holy Rood, Kelligrews and Salmon Cove are threatened and five houses were burned yesterday at Whitbourne, and fourteen at Blaketown.

The proximity of the fires is causing somewhat of a panic here. Bannerman Park contains nearly 1,500 persons living in huts, and widespread generation of disease is feared. Doctors visit the camps frequently to direct the sanitary operations. Great difficulties are experienced in preparing food for the crowds that are destitute. There is a great deficiency of house room, and much suffering results from the consequent over-crowding.

HAD TWO WIVES.

A Street Car Conductor Arrested for Bigamy.

BUFFALO, July 20.—Adam Wambacher, a street car conductor, was arrested yesterday charged with bigamy. Five years ago Wambacher married Ida Austin, daughter of a merchant in Pittsburgh. Two children were born to them. Soon after the birth of the second child in 1890, Wambacher fell in love with Maggie Burns, with whom he eloped to Buffalo where they were married and have lived ever since.

Wife No. 1 has been constantly searching for him and her brother has been aiding her. A few days ago the latter arrived here and happening to take the car in charge of Wambacher he recognized his former brother-in-law. The result was Wambacher's arrest. Wife No. 2 will prosecute him.

NEW SUPREME JUSTICE.

The President Fills the Vacancy Caused by Justice Bradley's Death.

WASHINGTON July 20.—The president has sent to the senate yesterday the nomination of George Shiras, Jr., of Pennsylvania, to be associate justice of the supreme court of the United States to succeed Justice Bradley, deceased.

George Shiras, Jr., is about sixty years of age, a leading consulting attorney of Pittsburgh and has never before held public office of any kind. He is a man of deep learning, great experience, and is considered eminently fitted for the supreme bench. He is a graduate of the famous '33 class of Yale, which graduated more celebrated men than in any year before or since. Justices Brewer and Brown, of the supreme bench, and Chauncey M. Depew were in this class. His appointment was not only recommended by the Pennsylvania delegation, but by persons of influence in all parts of the country.

Ex-Policeman on a Tear.

RIPLEY, O., July 20.—Between 11 and 12 o'clock Monday night Andy Writtner, an ex-policeman here, got on a tear and attempted to take the town. Night Police Jackman and Monroe came up with him and put him under arrest. Writtner resisted and cut James Jackman with a razor. The wound extended more than half way across the lower part of the abdomen and is of a serious nature. Yet his recovery is probable. Writtner is now under arrest. Heretofore Writtner has borne a good reputation and when he was on the police force made a good officer. His conduct was a surprise to everybody.

Politics Figuring in an Affray.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., July 20.—There is no material change in the condition of the wounded parties in the deplorable shooting affray of Saturday night. Young Ruark is reported as resting easier, but Marshal Starr passed another restless night and is not so well today. There is danger of concussion of the brain from the blow on his head. Ruark denies having thrown the stone. An effort is being made to turn the unfortunate occurrence to political account and thus intensify the antagonism between the country people and their shire town.

Wreck on the Baltimore and Ohio.

BELLAIRE, O., July 20.—Yesterday eastbound passenger train No. 6 collided with freight engine No. 1117, drawing a large freight train at the west approach of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad bridge, which spans the Ohio river at this point. The engines were badly damaged and several freight cars were completely demolished. The crews of both trains escaped. No one was injured, but the passengers were badly shaken up. Trains were delayed about two hours.

His Good Work Finished.

ZANESVILLE, O., July 20.—John T. Shryrock, the oldest newspaper man in the city, died Monday night after a few hours' illness, aged seventy-nine. He was during the war editor and proprietor of the Zanesville Courier. He started The Daily Advocate in 1872, but died.

He has since published The Weekly Advocate and The Saturday Night. He was a man of indomitable will, and although very feeble continued work to the day of his death.

Act of an Insane Man.

DAYTON, O., July 20.—Aaron Seals, a tobacco raiser, became violently insane yesterday. Crazed with the idea that officers of the law were carrying his son off to prison, he armed himself with a shotgun and started in pursuit of the supposed officers. He met Daniel Smith, a neighbor, and after trying to shoot him he assaulted him with the gun, probably fatally. Mrs. Smith sounded the alarm and Seals was captured.

Paid Dearly for His Ride.

ECKERT, Ind., July 20.—James Riley, aged twelve, near West Fork, while driving cows homeward, undertook to ride one of the animals. This led to a runaway, in which the boy sustained a broken arm and leg.

Base Ball.

Stabbed Himself with a Knife.

NORTHPOR, L. I., July 20.—Dr. Charles Scudder, son-in-law of ex-Senator Evarts, committed suicide yesterday at his cottage by stabbing himself with a knife. He was thirty-five years old, and had been suffering from nervous prostration. His wife, formerly Louisa Evarts, and her seven-year-old daughter are now at Mr. Evarts' home in Windsor, Vt.

WEDDING FESTIVITIES STOPPED.

Joy in One House While a Tragedy Takes Place in the Next One.

CHICAGO, July 20.—While a wedding ceremony was being conducted in the residence of John McHenry, at the corner of Forty-ninth and State streets, last night, a woman's cries for help stopped the festivities. Jacob Ewald, who was attending the wedding, together with Adam Sarmelia, hastened into the former's house near by, and there they found Mrs. Gustina Ewald in a front upstairs room, where she had been forced by an unknown man.

Ewald broke open the door, which had been locked from the inside, and, followed by Sarmelia, seized his wife's assailant by the throat, dragged him from the room and threw him bodily down stairs. The man lay motionless on the first floor landing, and Ewald and Sarmelia hastened below to examine his condition. He was unconscious when they reached him and died a few minutes later.

His skull had been fractured and he had sustained internal injuries. Ewald and Sarmelia surrendered themselves to the police and were locked up pending a preliminary examination. Mrs. Ewald told the police that while her husband was at the wedding next door, the man had entered her house and had attempted to criminally assault her.

Long Branch Hotel Burned.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., July 20.—The Atlantic hotel was nearly totally destroyed by fire at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning. There were nearly 300 guests in the hotel at the time and a panic ensued. In their anxiety to reach the street, many of the guests leaped from the windows and several were hurt. Many others were carried out by the firemen. All escaped in their night clothes, and lost their valuable wardrobes. Upwards of $30,000 worth of jewelry is missing from the various bedrooms, and it is thought to have been stolen.

Conflict of Railroads.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 20.—The Wilkesbarre and Eastern railroad, now building, which is supposed to be backed by the Pennsylvania company has had its progress stopped by the Reading road. Last night a gang of men in the employ of the Reading arrived on the scene and laid tracks on the new road bed, after which a large force was stationed there to protect the property. The Wilkesbarre and Eastern people are collecting a force of men and a conflict may ensue.

The Pope's Health.

ST. PAUL, July 20.—Monday Archbishop Ireland, after an absence of six months in Europe, in speaking about the health of Pope Leo XIII, said: "All you may hear and read about the pope being on the threshold of death has no foundation in fact. During my stay in Rome he was not indisposed for a single moment. There was scarcely an interruption from his assiduous labors even for a little while, because of failing health.

Raum's Offense.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Representative Lind, of Minnesota, has submitted to the house the views of the minority of the special pension office investigating committee which had in charge the investigation of the pension bureau under the management of Commissioner Raum. The report finds nothing for which the commissioner can be criticised unless it be that he appointed his son appointment clerk of the bureau.

Secretary Elkins Declines.

WHEELING, July 20.—A letter is published here from Secretary of War Stephen B. Elkins, in which he declines to be considered a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. He suggests that Internal Revenue Commissioner Mason be nominated. The letter has created a sensation, as Mr. Elkins has heretofore signified that he would accept the nomination, and it was generally conceded him.

Stung to Death by Bees.

WABASH, Ind., July 20.—Last Saturday, while a man named Creek, near Roan, was plowing, a swarm of bees settled upon his horses and stung them. The horses reared and plunged in an effort to rid themselves of the bees, but eventually they were so badly stung that they suffocated and died in the furrow. The plowman took to his heels, and when he returned both animals were dead.

Vigilant Committee Formed.

SEYMOUR, Ind., July 20.—Many unavenged murders, robberies and other criminal outrages in this neighborhood of late have roused law-abiding people to a point beyond endurance. Result: A quiet organization that numbers among its members several very prominent citizens who were leaders of the "vigilantes" who, in 1868, hanged fourteen of the Reno gang of train robbers. Outlaws may learn particulars later.

Hunting for Gas.

BUDA PESTH, July 20.—Near Jamas yesterday 180 reapers struck for higher wages. When their employer entered the field to argue with them they stoned him and threatened to kill him. He left them and they started a wagon load of sheaves, which they had seized, toward the village.

Their employer summoned constables. When the reapers saw the latter coming down the road they set fire to the load and made a rush for the approaching party. They seized the sub-inspector

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For Kentucky, Generally fair weather; warmer in extreme east and extreme west portions; southwest winds.

AS THE office-holders nominated Harrison and Reid it is eminently proper that one of them, Mr. Carter, should manage the campaign.

THE San Francisco Examiner has investigated the alleged Temescal tin mines in San Bernardino County, California, and asserts they are "an utter failure."

SENATOR HUTCHISON, of Henderson, has entered the Congressional contest in the Second district. He is very popular with the farmers, and Tom Pettit, the Alliance-Third Party-People's candidate, now realizes that he hasn't any "cinch" on a seat in the next Congress.

REPUBLICAN papers have been blowing a great deal about Mr. Frick's testimony before the Congressional Investigating Committee concerning the high wages paid at Homestead. There are generally two sides to every story, and Republican papers, of course, give only Mr. Frick's version. The day after Mr. F. testified one of his employees was put on the stand, and here is the employee's side of the wages story:

Mr. Oates—What were your wages per month?
"Mr. Frick says I received $144 in the month of May. I have worked for as low as ninety-eight cents a day. The variation is due to breakage and want of steel."

It is announced that in a single town in Connecticut,—Wausegan,—five of the heretofore most active Republican workers, J. Thomas Smith, John McStay, Isaac Whitehead, Robert Bley and Samuel Collins, have come out openly and are working for Cleveland. It is also reported that in this same town, forty Republicans have joined the Democratic club that organized recently. In Putman, N. W. Kennedy, a former active Republican, is making speeches for Cleveland, and in Plainfield, the same State, J. F. Montgomery, J. P. Weeks, Hon. Welcome H. Browning and Charles Sanders are among the Cleveland converts. "Open the doors wide. There is room for everybody in the Democratic party," exclaims the Georgetown News-Democrat. And why not? It is the party of the people, and opposed to classes and class legislation.

THAT was a shrewd scheme the Republicans tried to work on the Democrats with the Free Coinage bill, but the Democrats tumbled to the racket and the G. O. P. leaders are no doubt very sorry now they ever attempted anything of the kind. They rushed the measure through the Senate, and expected the House to adopt it, but the House instead gave it a death blow. The record now shows that a Republican Senate passed the Free Silver bill, and that a Democratic House killed it. A special from Washington City shows how the result is viewed there. It says: "The New York and New England Representatives are enthusiastic over the defeat of the bill, and thousands of dollars are being offered with no takers that Cleveland will carry New York State. Dan Lockwood accounts for this confidence on the ground that the defeat of the bill is worth 50,000 German votes to the Democratic ticket in New York. Senator Vilas, of Wisconsin, says that the result in the House makes his State sure for Cleveland in November."

REPUBLICANS are blowing a great deal about the wonderful increase in our export trade the past year, and, of course, the McKinley bill brought it all about. "While the exports for the past fiscal year were extraordinarily large," says the Courier-Journal, "it is remarkable how few commodities show any notable increase." * * * "The exports of breadstuffs for the year footed up $288,925,000. For the preceding fiscal year the total was $123,156,920. This magnificent increase of over $165,000,000 was due, of course, to the great crops of 1891 in this country and the crop failure in most of the countries of Europe—a concurrence of events that is exceedingly rare. The exports of meat products for the eleven months, up to the end of May, were more than seven million dollars less than for the corresponding eleven months of the preceding fiscal year."

It may be noted that our exports of manufactured goods were nearly eight million dollars less in the eleven months ended May 31 than in the corresponding period of last year.

It was a good thing for this country that there was a short crop in the old world last year.

We hope that Mr. H. C. Barkley, who so kindly accompanied him, will come back with him in September. The rain shall not keep us at home.

Breaking Up a Witness.

In no way can barristers better display their acuteness than by seeing at a glance the character of the witnesses they are about to examine and by treating them accordingly. Erskine was famous at this. In a case in which he was engaged a commercial traveler came into the witness box dressed in the height of fashion and wearing a starched white necktie folded in the Brummel fold. In an instant Erskine knew his man, though he had never seen him before, and said to him, with an air of careless amusement, "You were born and bred in Manchester, I perceive." Greatly astonished at this opening remark, the man admitted that he was. "Exactly," observed the great cross examiner, in a conversational tone; "I knew it from the absurd tie of your neckcloth."

The roars of laughter—coming from every person in the court, with the single exception of the unfortunate witness—which followed this rejoinder completely effected Erskine's purpose, which was to put the witness in a state of agitation and confusion before touching on the facts concerning which he had come to give evidence.—London Illustrated News.

FIVE MILLION SAVED

To the People of the United States
BY AN ACT OF CONGRESS.

The House Refuses to Concur in the Senate's Amendment to the World's Fair Bill, and Decides That the Fair Must Be Closed on Sunday.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—If the people of the United States are in favor of a world's fair to the extent of giving the exposition $5,000,000 they have not expressed their views through their representatives in congress. The advocates of this appropriation had hard sledding in the house, and the result of the day's work may be summed up as follows: The appropriation item was voted down 110 to 122, and the Sunday closing paragraph inserted by the senate was sustained by a vote of 147 to 61.

The appropriations as made by the senate for the geological survey were concurred in—an amendment was inserted forbidding the letting of any contract by any government officer to any one employing the Pinkerton detective agency or other organization employing armed forces and prohibiting their employment by the government in the District of Columbia. The sundry civil bill was then passed as amended and the speaker appointed Messrs. Holman, Sayres and Bingham as the conferees. A resolution was passed for the appointment of a special committee of five members to investigate the election laws and methods in the city and county of New York. The conference report on the fortification bill was agreed to, and the house adjourned.

Little was accomplished in the senate except to discuss a financial proposition of Mr. Morgan's without result, and to read the anti-option bill and to amend it according to Mr. Washburn's views, leaving many other amendments pending. The only senator who spoke on the bill was Mr. Stewart, of Nevada, and his remarks were directed to almost every other topic except those embraced in the bill.

AGAINST RAILROAD SLAUGHTER.

Ex-Railroad Commissioner Coffin on the Bill Before the Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Hon. L. S. Coffin, ex-railroad commissioner of Iowa, who is now in Washington working for the adoption by the senate of the house bill compelling railroad companies to adopt a uniform car coupling for the protection of life in the operation of freight trains, says:

"This bill must pass into law before adjournment of this session. The railroad employees will hold the party delaying it responsible. The house has passed it, now let the senate do it.

"Will the public welcome the statement from indisputable authority made that not less than six strong, broad shouldered men right in the very prime of manhood have to give life and sixty-five more meet with painful accidents and life long crippling every day of the year in the railroad service of this nation? that not less than seventy families in this land must have the services of either the surgeon or the undertaker every day that we, the public, may have the facilities of railway travel and transportation?

"Is not this indeed a tragedy of tragedies that should put to shame our boasted Christian civilization? Think of the awful fact for a moment, 25,000, yes 25,000 of these strong, brave, faithful public servants, serving the public more faithfully than any other class of wage workers, must either give up life, limb, or be otherwise maimed every year in this now indispensable work. At the least 50 per cent. of this slaughter of these men is clearly preventable.

"There are dangers at present connected with train service which human wisdom does not seem able to eliminate, but those arising from the continued use of old style couplers and hand-brakes on freight cars, that caused at least one-half of all the casualties to these men, can be avoided. This can be done. It remains for this congress to decide whether a beginning of the end of this wanton waste of life and limb shall be started."

Some of the leading members in the senate are very enthusiastic for this bill, as it will do away with the use of the old hand brake and employ the air brake in all interstate cars, and if there is time the bill will pass the senate within a few days. It is simply a question whether the house will force the senate to adjourn before the latter can act upon the bill.

Result of an Explosion.

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 20.—It has been ascertained that the great explosion yesterday was 200 pounds of powder going off. It made a hole in the ground deep enough for a good sized boy to stand in. Over a wagon load of shells exploded. Many shells have been brought to this city by relic hunters.

Will Reduce Its Force.

READING, Pa., July 20.—The Reading Iron company, owing to dullness in the iron trade will blow out two of its furnaces this week. The general manager says the company has a large quantity of pig iron on hand. One hundred and fifty men will be affected by the blowing out of these stacks.

Boy's Body Found.

CANTON, O., July 20.—The body of Frederick Williams, aged nineteen, the only child of Captain W. S. Williams, a prominent business man of this place, was found in Nimisillen creek yesterday. The lad was subject to epileptic fits and it is supposed that while suffering from one of these he fell into the creek and was drowned.

Injured on the Race Track.

WAPOKONETA, O., July 20.—Fred Glazier, of Chalmers, Ind., the driver of the pacing horse Cutler, met with a fatal injury here yesterday. The horse stumbled, turning the sulky over and throwing the driver a distance of twelve feet onto the track. He is being cared for at the Henry House.

THE WONDERFUL PNEUMATIC CHAIR.

THE NOVELTY OF THE AGE.

It is the greatest invention of the nineteenth century. It combines all the essentials and comforts of the ordinary Rocking Chair with the feature of fanning its occupant with the perfumed breezes of fairy land. A bellows adjusted underneath the seat operates with the ordinary rocking motion and expels the air through the tube over the occupant, and the sensation produced is as agreeable as it is comforting and cooling. No flies to bother you. No mosquitoes to pester you. It's an indispensable piece of Furniture for all, but especially for summer resorts, club rooms, parks, theatres, hotels, hospitals and private offices. Its usefulness is unlimited.
